SAMPLE ANSWER • BAND 8

I • Intro (what)	I'd like to talk about Forrest Gump, which is my all-time favourite film. It came out in 1994, but it's so timeless that I've watched it at least five times. It tells the story of a kind, simple man who, almost by accident, ends up witnessing some of the biggest moments in American history.
P • Who is in it	It has a star-studded cast, headed by Tom Hanks as Forrest. His performance is brilliant, because he makes you believe in the character from the first minute. Robin Wright plays Jenny, the girl Forrest loves all his life, and Gary Sinise plays a lieutenant he meets in the army.
P • What happens	As for the plot, we follow Forrest from childhood to adulthood. He becomes a football star, fights in Vietnam, plays ping-pong in China and even starts a shrimp business, always with a calm smile. When it comes to the ending, I won't give it away, but it's very moving.
E • Reason 1	The first reason I love it is its powerful message. It shows that kindness and honesty matter more than being clever. The more I think about Forrest, the more I admire his gentle approach to life.
E • Reason 2	Another reason is that it's an emotional rollercoaster. I laughed out loud at some scenes and burst into tears at others. So powerful was the ending that I sat in silence long after the credits rolled.
W • Wrap-up	So, all in all, it's a masterpiece that stays with me. Were it not for that evening at my uncle's house, when we put it on, I would never have found a film that lifts my spirits every time.
